Theme: "Unmasking the Appeal,"

Dear Esteemed faculty members and students, Godavari College of Nursing is proud to announce an awareness campaign on "World No Tobacco Day," organized by the Department of Community Health Nursing in collaboration with National Service Scheme (NSS) Unit. World No Tobacco Day is observed annually on May 31st across the globe, dedicated to raising awareness about the extensive harmful effects of tobacco on health, which include cardiovascular diseases, various forms of cancer, tooth decay, and teeth staining.

This year, World No Tobacco Day 2025 highlights its crucial theme: "Unmasking the Appeal," a vital initiative exposing how tobacco and nicotine industries relentlessly target youth with insidious strategies such as appealing flavored products, deceptive marketing, and addictive product designs, all crafted to create lifelong users. These manipulative tactics, ranging from glamorized advertisements to "candy-coating" additives, create a false sense of security, tragically hooking young people into a cycle of dependence. Removing this deceptive appeal through stricter regulations is paramount and vital to protect current and future generations, and we must not let the tobacco and nicotine industries trick us with their playbook. We believe this awareness program offers a unique opportunity to expand your knowledge, and we eagerly anticipate your participation.
