REPORT ON PODCAST

TOPIC: GENDER EQUIALITY AND THE IMPACT OF POPULATION GROWTH

AND RESOURCES

DATE: 11 JULY 2025

TIME: 11AM

VENUE: AKSHTA PATIL HALL

Introduction:

On World Population Day, the Community Health Nursing Department organized an educational and awareness-driven podcast on 10th July 2025 at 11:00 AM in Akshata Patil Hall. The podcast focused on the significant and timely topic: "Gender Equality and the Impact of Population Growth on Resources."

Purpose of the Event:

The podcast aimed to:

Raise awareness about the consequences of uncontrolled population growth.

Emphasize the critical link between gender equality and population management.

Encourage nursing students to understand the role of community health in achieving sustainable development.

Program Highlights:

The event began with an introductory speech by the anchor, Ms. Ashlesha Moon, who warmly welcomed all the participants and provided a brief overview of World Population Day and its global relevance. She then introduced the distinguished guest speaker, Dr. Prashant Warke, a respected figure in public health and social development.

The session was then handed over to Ms. Divayana Pawar, the host of the podcast, who guided the conversation with engaging questions and real-world context.

Key Points Discussed by the Guest Speaker:

Dr. Prashant Warke delivered an enlightening session on:

The critical role of gender equality in family planning and sustainable development.

How population growth puts immense pressure on natural, social, and economic resources.

The importance of female education, reproductive health services, and empowerment in achieving population stabilization.

Examples of successful policies from different regions that highlight the importance of inclusive approaches.

His insights were supported by recent data and practical examples, making the discussion relatable and impactful for the student audience.

Audience Interaction:

The podcast saw enthusiastic participation from nursing students and faculty members. A short interactive Q&A session followed, where students posed thoughtful questions, and Dr. Warke responded with great clarity and insight.

Conclusion:

The event concluded with a vote of thanks to the speaker, the organizing team, and all attendees for making the podcast successful. The participants appreciated the initiative for bringing such a meaningful and relevant discussion to light.

The programme was guided by Mrs. Jacinth Dhaya C.H. Associate professor cum H.O.D. Community health nursing, GCON and Mr. Nirbhay Mohod Associate Professor and Ms. Swati Gadegone Assistant Professor Encourage and all members of community health nursing department throughout the programme.
