1. INTRODUCTION

Godavari Foundation's Godavari College of Nursing, Jalgaon, affiliated with Maharashtra University of Health Sciences (MUHS), Nashik, and accredited by NAAC, organized a National Reels Competition on the occasion of International Day of the Girl Child on 15 October 2026. The programme was organized by the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecological Nursing in collaboration with the Nursing Scholar Society (NSS) through the online Zoom platform.

The programme was conducted around the theme, "End Child Marriage and Invest in Girls' Rights!" The initiative aimed to sensitize nursing students to the importance of protecting girls' rights, preventing child marriage, promoting girls' education, and encouraging gender equality.

The Reels Competition provided a creative platform for nursing students to communicate important social messages through short videos. It encouraged participants to use their creativity, communication skills, and digital media to promote awareness regarding the rights, dignity, safety, and empowerment of girls.

2. AIM OF THE PROGRAMME

To create awareness among nursing students regarding the prevention of child marriage and the protection of girls' rights through a National Reels Competition that promotes creativity, social responsibility, gender equality, and girls' empowerment.

3. OBJECTIVES OF THE PROGRAMME

1. To create awareness about the harmful consequences of child marriage on girls' health, education, development, and future opportunities.
2. To emphasize the importance of girls' education and equal opportunities for all.
3. To promote awareness regarding the rights, dignity, safety, and empowerment of the girl child.
4. To encourage nursing students to express their ideas and opinions through creative and informative reels.
5. To develop students' communication, presentation, creativity, and digital media skills.
6. To sensitize students to the importance of gender equality and the prevention of discrimination against girls.
7. To encourage nursing students to use social media responsibly for health education and social awareness.
8. To strengthen students' understanding of the role of nursing professionals in advocating for women's health and children's rights.
9. To provide a platform for nursing students from different institutions to participate in a national-level awareness activity.
10. To encourage social responsibility and active participation in initiatives promoting girls' rights.

4. PLANNING AND ORGANIZATION

The programme was planned and organized by the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecological Nursing in collaboration with the Nursing Scholar Society (NSS). The organizing team selected the theme, developed the competition guidelines, and communicated the participation requirements to eligible nursing students.

The competition was open to undergraduate and postgraduate nursing students. Participants were required to create original reels relevant to the theme and submit them in MP4 format in vertical 9:16 orientation, with clear audio and video quality.

The guidelines permitted reels of 30–90 seconds in English, Hindi, or any Indian regional language. Participants using regional languages were encouraged to include English or Hindi subtitles. Creative approaches such as acting, storytelling, interviews, animation, role play, and dance were permitted, provided the content remained relevant to the theme.

The registration fee was ₹50 per participant. The last date for submission was 10 October 2026, and reels were submitted through the designated contact number. The competition guidelines also specified that content should be original, socially relevant, appropriate, and free from offensive or misleading material.

5. PROGRAMME PROCEEDINGS

The programme was conducted online through Zoom on 15 October 2026 from 10:00 AM onwards, with the venue designated as Dr. Akshata Patil Hall, Godavari College of Nursing, Jalgaon.

The competition focused on the theme "End Child Marriage and Invest in Girls' Rights!" Participants were encouraged to communicate meaningful messages through short, engaging, and informative videos addressing the importance of protecting girls from child marriage and discrimination.

The programme emphasized that child marriage can adversely affect girls' education, physical and emotional well-being, personal development, and future opportunities. It also highlighted the need to create an environment in which girls can access education, exercise their rights, make informed decisions, and participate equally in society.

Through the Reels Competition, students were encouraged to explore innovative ways of communicating these messages to a wider audience. The activity connected nursing education with social responsibility and demonstrated how digital platforms can be used to promote awareness of important public health and social issues.

6. ROLE OF THE CHAIRPERSON AND DIGNITARIES

The programme was conducted under the guidance of Prof. Dr. Vishakha Ganvir, Principal of Godavari College of Nursing, Jalgaon, who served as Chairperson. Her leadership supported the institution's commitment to educational activities that promote social awareness and the professional development of nursing students.

Prof. Jacinth Dhaya CH, Vice-Principal, served as Vice-Chairperson and judge for the competition. Her role contributed to the academic guidance and evaluation framework of the activity.

Prof. Dr. Binu Joe, Founder President of the Nursing Scholar Society (NSS), supported the initiative and its objective of encouraging nursing students to participate in educational and socially relevant activities.

Prof. Dr. Alka Tajne, Professor-cum-Principal of Vibrant Nursing College, Surat, served as a judge for the competition. The involvement of academic representatives supported the competition's emphasis on creativity, originality, clarity of message, and presentation quality.

Ms. Menao Devi Khuraijam, Head of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecological Nursing, served as Co-Chairperson and contributed to the departmental organization of the programme.

7. Programme Coordinators

The programme was coordinated by:

- Ms. Snehal Jambular, Ass.Professor
- Ms. Collet Londhe, MSc Tutor
- Ms. Ahinsa Lokhande, MSc Tutor
- Ms. Nikita Ramteke, MSc Tutor

8. COMPETITION GUIDELINES AND EVALUATION CRITERIA

Participants were instructed to follow the established guidelines to ensure the quality and relevance of their submissions.

Key guidelines included:

- Reel duration of 30–90 seconds.
- Original and creative content relevant to the competition theme.
- MP4 format in vertical 9:16 orientation.
- Clear audio and video quality.
- Use of English, Hindi, or an Indian regional language, with subtitles where required.
- Use of original or copyright-free music.
- Avoidance of vulgar, offensive, political, or misleading content.

The stated evaluation criteria were:

1. Relevance to the competition theme.
2. Creativity and originality.
3. Clarity of the message.
4. Presentation and technical quality.

These criteria were intended to encourage participants to communicate the theme effectively while maintaining originality and appropriate presentation standards.

9. PRIZES AND RECOGNITION

To motivate participants and recognize creative efforts, attractive cash prizes were announced for the competition.

- First Prize: ₹1,500 and a certificate.
- Second Prize: ₹1,000 and a certificate.

The prize money was to be transferred to the winners through Google Pay (GPay). E-certificates were provided for participants and winners, as specified in the competition guidelines.

The prizes were intended to recognize creativity, encourage participation, and motivate nursing students to use their knowledge and skills to promote social awareness.

10. OUTCOMES OF THE PROGRAMME

The National Reels Competition provided a platform for nursing students to engage with an important social issue through creative expression and digital communication. The programme was designed to achieve the following outcomes:

1. Increased awareness of the importance of preventing child marriage and protecting girls' rights.
2. Greater emphasis on girls' education, empowerment, dignity, and equal opportunities.
3. Encouragement of creativity and originality in communicating social messages.
4. Development of students' digital presentation and communication skills.
5. Promotion of responsible use of social media for educational and awareness purposes.
6. Reinforcement of nursing students' social responsibility and advocacy role.
7. Encouragement of participation in national-level academic and awareness activities.
8. Strengthening of the connection between nursing education, community awareness, and women's health.

The programme also highlighted the potential of short-video formats to communicate socially relevant messages in an accessible and engaging manner.

11. LEARNING OUTCOMES

At the end of the activity, participants were expected to be able to:

- Explain the importance of preventing child marriage.
- Identify the importance of girls' rights, education, and empowerment.
- Communicate a relevant social message through a creative reel.
- Demonstrate appropriate digital communication and presentation skills.
- Recognize the role of nursing professionals in promoting gender equality and protecting the rights of girls.
- Encourage awareness and responsible social action within their communities.

12. SIGNIFICANCE OF THE PROGRAMME

The programme was significant because it integrated nursing education with social awareness and digital creativity. Nurses play an important role in health education, community sensitization, and advocacy for the health and well-being of women and children.

By addressing child marriage and girls' rights, the competition encouraged students to consider the wider social factors that influence health, education, safety, and personal development. It also demonstrated how educational institutions can engage students in meaningful activities that extend beyond the classroom.

The initiative reflected the commitment of Godavari College of Nursing, Jalgaon, to promoting girls' empowerment, gender equality, and community awareness through student-centred educational programmes.

13. CONCLUSION

The National Reels Competition organized by Godavari College of Nursing, Jalgaon, on the occasion of International Day of the Girl Child 2026 was an educational initiative focused on the theme "End Child Marriage and Invest in Girls' Rights!" Organized by the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecological Nursing in collaboration with the Nursing Scholar Society (NSS), the programme encouraged nursing students to use creativity and digital media to communicate messages concerning girls' rights, education, empowerment, and the prevention of child marriage.

The activity highlighted the responsibility of nursing students and professionals in promoting social awareness, protecting the well-being of girls, and advocating for an equitable society. Through this initiative, the institution reaffirmed its commitment to educational excellence, social responsibility, and the promotion of girls' rights.
